RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2020

Artemis Investment Management

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2020 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
Ⓜ	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

SG 01.4

Describe your organisation's investment principles and overall investment strategy, interpretation of fiduciary (or equivalent) duties, and how they consider ESG factors and real economy impact.

Our investment teams use a number of different investment philosophies and processes that are specific to each strategy. The majority of our strategies are managed in teams of two or three managers who are wholly responsible and accountable for the assets they manage, whilst benefiting from the shared specialist knowledge of their investment colleagues. Fund managers have a high degree of discretion and are free to pursue different investment philosophies and processes within a robust risk control framework. Each investment strategy will include an assessment of the material risks and opportunities and their financial impact on the performance of investments. The specific method of incorporating these risks and opportunities including those related to ESG drivers - and at what stage of the investment process - will depend on the approach and timeframe of the fund manager.

Provide a brief description of the key elements, any variations or exceptions to your investment policy that covers your responsible investment approach. [Optional]

Our quantitative strategies use our in-house quantitative model which analyses many factors, both company-specific and macroeconomic, to construct a portfolio of stocks. Meeting managements does not form part of this process. However, our quantitative strategies do vote at company meetings.

SG 03.1 Indicate if your organisation has a policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

Yes

SG 03.2 Describe your policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

We have a firm-wide policy which sets out how we will deal with actual or potential conflicts of interest. Our approach is always to act in the best interest of our clients. Artemis is a privately owned, independent partnership and fund management is all we do. So we don't encounter some of the conflicts of interest faced by larger investment or financial services companies. But it does happen, even in less complex businesses - and we recognise that. For example, the pension scheme of a company in which we are investing might be a client of Artemis; or we may have investments in one of our main distributors, or in Affiliated Managers Group Inc (AMG) which owns a stake in our business; or one of our partners, non-executive directors or employees may be a director of one of our holdings. How we vote may benefit, or be perceived to benefit, Artemis or a particular investor. Where there is a possibility of a conflict of interest any decision to vote against the voting policy is discussed with Artemis' CIO, and the final decision with explanation is recorded.

No

SG 03.3 Additional information. [Optional]

We record and cross-reference all potential conflicts in a matrix. This allows us to monitor and prevent any disadvantage to our clients. Both the policy on conflicts of interest and the accompanying matrix are reviewed and approved every year by our management committee.

Artemis' Investment Committee is responsible for the oversight of our investment activities and stewardship role. This aligns with our belief that stewardship should not be viewed separately from our approach to investment, it must be embedded in everything we do. Our Chief Investment Officer (CIO) chairs this committee and is a member of the Executive Committee. Whilst we do have a team of two specifically dedicated to supporting our fund managers with ESG integration and stewardship activities, their role is to support, discuss and challenge approaches. The stewardship team has a representative on the Investment Committee and reports annually directly to the Executive Committee and Management Committees. ESG is integrated into fund manager and analyst appraisals and objectives for the year ahead.

FI 01.2 Describe your reasons for choosing a particular ESG incorporation strategy and how combinations of strategies are used.

As a firm, we believe stewardship activities contribute to better performing companies and hence returns for our clients. Fund managers take the lead on stewardship, it is part of their investment processes which comprises of idea generation, research and portfolio construction.

We have a range of separate and distinctive fixed income strategies but the integration of financially material ESG factors is the main approach for ESG incorporation as this leads in our view to a more holistic risk assessment of investments and hence better returns for clients. Assessment of materiality differs due to factors including holding period, portfolio positioning and construction, and risk tolerance all of which have an impact on how information is used.

- Issuer information and/or ESG ratings are updated regularly to ensure ESG research is accurate
- Internal audits and regular reviews of ESG research are undertaken in a systematic way.
- A materiality/sustainability framework is created and regularly updated that includes all the key ESG risks and opportunities for each sector/country.

FI 10	Mandatory	Public	Descriptive	PRI 1
--------------	------------------	---------------	--------------------	--------------

FI 10.1	Describe your approach to integrating ESG into traditional financial analysis.

As a firm, we believe stewardship activities contribute to better performing companies and hence returns for our clients. Fund managers take the lead on stewardship, it is part of their investment processes which comprises of idea generation, research and portfolio construction. Whilst individual strategies are distinctive, views and thoughts are shared across the various investment teams. We use a number of materiality frameworks and research providers to guide our ESG risk and opportunity assessment including SASB, MSCI ESG, Sustainalytics, TruValue Labs, and sell-side research. These sources of information provide valuable analysis and insight but they are just one set of inputs into our own investment evaluations. They supplement our own research and engagement with companies. Different perspectives are helpful, but it is the role of our fund managers to assimilate information from multiple sources and come to a decision. Assessment of materiality differs due to factors including fundamental analysis, holding period, portfolio positioning and construction, and risk tolerance all of which have an impact on how information is used.

FI 10.2	Describe how your ESG integration approach is adapted to each of the different types of fixed income you invest in.

SSA

The credit quality of most SSAs means that we tend to focus on ESG implications for market technicals, rather than fundamentals.

Corporate (financial)

Most financial firms will have diverse and complex portfolio of underlying assets. Governance is of paramount importance both in terms of understanding the risks involved in the management of these assets, and also in ensuring that the relevant corporate is taking sufficient care of ESG factors within their own investments and operations. Given that most financials bonds are Investment Grade, we tend to focus more on the potential impact of ESG factors upon market technicals rather than fundamentals. However, should a given asset exposure within a financial firm be particularly pronounced, we will consider the potential impact within our fundamental analysis on the credit.

Corporate (non-financial)

Within Investment Grade non-financial corporates the consideration of ESG factors upon market technicals is of greater importance, given the higher credit quality of issuers means that they will be better able to deal with fundamental disruption through ESG. Having said this, longer-dated issuance must take into account greater fundamental risks from ESG developments given the longer time horizon. Within High Yield non-financial corporates the potential impact of ESG factors on fundamental performance is of greater importance, given the more precarious financial situations of the credits.

SSA

Given the diversified funding nature of most SSAs, we tend to focus more on governance and social factors rather than environmental issues.

Corporate (financial)

As with SSAs, most financial firms will have diverse portfolios of underlying assets. Governance is of paramount importance both in terms of understanding the risks involved in the management of these assets, and also in ensuring that the relevant corporate is taking sufficient care of ESG factors within their own investments and operations.

Corporate (non-financial)

Individual non-financial corporates will have their own priorities as far as ESG analysis goes. Much of this will be dependent upon industries. For instance, an auto company may require a focus on environmental issues; a consumer products company may require a focus on social issues; and a heavily regulated company such as a pharmaceutical may require a focus on governance. We broadly believe that, while governance is important for all companies given the contractual nature of our investment within them, for Investment Grade companies it is of paramount importance.
