RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2020

Rabobank Pensioenfond

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2020 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
⚠	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

OO 11.3b | If your organisation does not integrate ESG factors into investment decisions on your externally managed assets, explain why not.

Commodity investments by done by derivatives and not physical investments.

OO 11.4 | Provide a brief description of how your organisation includes responsible investment considerations in your investment manager selection, appointment and monitoring processes.

ESG is an integral part in the selection and appointment process for managers, including intergration of ESG principles in their investment process and compensation policy. Fixed income managers and Equity managers are required to be UN PRI signatories. Infrastructure and PE managers are required to have implemented a formal ESG policy. These managers are not required to be UN PRI signatories but we expect the policy of the managers to be in line with the Principles. If a manager is not an UN PRI signatory, we discuss and encourage further compliance with and adoption of the Principles. In 2017 the GRESB Infrastructure has been set as the sustainability benchmark with regard to the selection and monitoring of Infra managers.

Provide examples of how ESG issues have been addressed in the manager selection, appointment and/or monitoring process for your organisation during the reporting year.

Scope and process	In 2019 Rabobank Pensioenfond has requested the fiduciary advisor to investigate whether it is possible to further increase the exposure to impact investments via the Infrastructure portfolio, particularly in Environmental. Renewable energy has become an important instrument for institutional investors to address the themes of ESG (especially the E) and impact investing. This makes it possible to make a measurable positive impact. At the end of Q4 2018, RPF's infrastructure portfolio comprised 18% of investments in renewable energy, particularly in traditional solar and wind farms worldwide in Europe and North America. In 2018, Rabobank Pensioenfond made another commitment to a specific sustainable energy fund, KGAL ESPF IV. In addition, the investment in the American open end fund Axiom AINA IV is largely based on renewable energy, with a lot of exposure to North American hydro energy (hydropower). Rabobank Pensioenfond has also been invested in sustainable waste-to-energy investments through the MIP IV fund in the United States and the DIF IV fund in Australia. Other impact investments, for example water and social infrastructure, are also present in the portfolios, but in the view of AIM are small-scale and offer only limited investment opportunities.
Outcomes	In order to invest more in impact investments within Infrastructure we changed the target guidelines of the portfolio plan in two places. Firstly, we established a sectoral standard allocation for sustainable energy at 35% and to increase the bandwidth to 20% to a maximum of 50%. Secondly, to reappoint the standard allocation for Asia / Emerging Markets to Other at regional level. This is to have the opportunity to select an impact manager in Emerging Markets, for example, but also because many of the Global managers use the space in their regional policy to invest in sustainable energy in Australia.

Scope and process	Rabobank Pensioenfond's attaches great importance to sustainability in real estate/property investments. Sustainable real estate has the lowest possible environmental impact and remains attractive for both the owner and the user in the long term. This means that it is energy-efficient, uses renewable energy, has low CO2 emissions, has a pleasant indoor climate and is in a safe and livable environment. Sustainable real estate is easily tradeable and will eventually be more rentable and better value than real estate that is not sustainable. For example, the pension fund has set itself the target of making 15% of the residential portfolio energy-neutral by the end of 2030. Purchases must contribute to the desired sustainability profile, this is steered by requesting recognized sustainability certificates for new buildings. In addition, all new homes are being constructed without gas. With acquisitions of existing real estate, the requirement is that these purchases must have at least an A-label.
Outcomes	The sustainability policy for the real estate portfolio is measured annually by participation in the international sustainability benchmark GRESB (Global Real Estate Sustainability Benchmark). In 2019 the score was the same as in 2018, 82. In 2018 the score of the real estate portfolio improved strongly compared to the previous year, an overall score of 82 points was achieved (2017: 72 points). As a result, the portfolio gained 7th place in a peer group of 101 comparable unlisted European real estate funds and portfolios. Rabobank Pensioenfond's is among the leaders in the benchmark and the GRESB Green Star status was granted. In addition, 100% of the residential portfolio has a green energy label (total property portfolio: 97.0%).

Additional information. [Optional]

For both our value and enhanced engagement program, we determine engagement objectives at the start of the engagement process. This is used to establish the starting point for individual companies, to keep the engagement focused, and to efficiently address the most material ESG factors. For each theme, SMART (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant, Time-bound) engagement objectives are defined. These are then shared with investee companies. We track progress against the engagement objectives set. This forms a key part of the engagement theme research stage, and ensures that we begin engagement with a thorough understanding of the materiality of the ESG issue in question, the company's current performance on and exposure to the issue, and their baseline performance on the engagement objectives set.

Each time we are in contact with a company, we discuss the progress towards the objectives. We then assess the progress a company made towards each of the objectives, and we adjust the progress level. Based on the developments observed, we decide between four levels of progress, both on an objective level, and on an overall progress level. At the start of the engagement trajectory, we define a threshold for each company for the number of objectives that should be met. When the company reaches the threshold, we will close the engagement case successfully.

- Other (explain)

LEA 12.2 | Provide an overview of how you ensure that your agreed-upon voting policy is adhered to, giving details of your approach when exceptions to the policy are made.

Our service provider Robeco has a comprehensive voting policy based on 20 years of experience and insights, and incorporates specific policy wishes in its mandates where this is requested. They vote at almost all possible meetings relevant to our holdings, regardless of region or company. In practice, RPF only refrains from voting in specific cases of share blocking which prevent our ownership being recognized in the total number of votes allocated. In these cases, Robeco will assess the priority of the meeting and the voting impact of our positions.

Our voting analysis is based on the internationally-accepted principles of the International Corporate Governance Network (ICGN) and local guidelines. The ICGN principles provide a broad framework for assessing companies' corporate governance practices. They provide enough scope for companies to be assessed according to local standards, national legislation and corporate-governance codes of conduct. Our assessment also considers company-specific circumstances and the management's explanation of company policy. The policy is applicable for all shareholder meetings (AGM's and EGM's) voted for our equity funds.

The policy provides guidance on common proposals for shareholder meetings. Some principles can be applied rule based, where as other agenda items require more assessment. The Robeco voting analysts use assessment frameworks and weekly meetings to make sure the principles are implemented consistently. Relevant voting decisions are made in collaboration with investment teams and engagement specialists. Information captured from the shareholder meeting is considered in forthcoming engagement activities.

With their voting and engagement practices, Robeco aims to encourage the management teams of companies in which we invest to implement good corporate governance and responsible policies to increase long-term shareholder value while encouraging responsible corporate behavior.
