RI TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2020

Prior Nilsson Fonder

About this report

The PRI Reporting Framework is a key step in the journey towards building a common language and industry standard for reporting responsible investment (RI) activities. This RI Transparency Report is one of the key outputs of this Framework. Its primary objective is to enable signatory transparency on RI activities and facilitate dialogue between investors and their clients, beneficiaries and other stakeholders. A copy of this report will be publicly disclosed for all reporting signatories on the PRI website, ensuring accountability of the PRI Initiative and its signatories.

This report is an export of the individual Signatory organisation's response to the PRI during the 2020 reporting cycle. It includes their responses to mandatory indicators, as well as responses to voluntary indicators the signatory has agreed to make public. The information is presented exactly as it was reported. Where an indicator offers a response option that is multiple-choice, all options that were available to the signatory to select are presented in this report. Presenting the information exactly as reported is a result of signatory feedback which suggested the PRI not summarise the information. As a result, the reports can be extensive. However, to help easily locate information, there is a Principles index which highlights where the information can be found and summarises the indicators that signatories complete and disclose.

Understanding the Principles Index

The Principles Index summarises the response status for the individual indicators and modules and shows how these relate to the six Principles for Responsible Investment. It can be used by stakeholders as an 'at-a-glance' summary of reported information and to identify particular themes or areas of interest.

Indicators can refer to one or more Principles. Some indicators are not specific to any Principle. These are highlighted in the 'General' column. When multiple Principles are covered across numerous indicators, in order to avoid repetition, only the main Principle covered is highlighted.

All indicators within a module are presented below. The status of indicators is shown with the following symbols:

Symbol	Status
✓	The signatory has completed all mandatory parts of this indicator
☑	The signatory has completed some parts of this indicator
🔒	This indicator was not relevant for this signatory
-	The signatory did not complete any part of this indicator
⚠	The signatory has flagged this indicator for internal review

Within the table, indicators marked in blue are mandatory to complete. Indicators marked in grey are voluntary to complete.

Additional information. [Optional]

Prior Nilsson is an independent and personal asset management company which has been on the market since 2002. We have had a continuous growth but have been very careful to keep the benefits of a smaller company. We believe in true active management - we believe that we can make a difference and add value by being active in the market, follow our own path and not follow an index. Our asset managers Torgny Prior and P-O Nilsson, who are also the founders and owners of the company, have an average experience of 33 years in the financial industry. They have most of their savings invested in our own funds.

Genuine active fund management is to base management on solid fundamental analysis and to ignore index. It has proven to be a successful strategy, and currently PriorNilsson manages five funds - two hedge funds, a Swedish fund and a real assets fund and a global fund. We also have several long term discretionary assignments where we comply with each individual customer's preferences on policy and risk. We are skilled at giving a good personal service and we have many satisfied long-term customers.

Prior Nilsson became PRI signatories in 2018, but including ESG factors in our fundamental analysis has been integral since the beginning.

Describe your organisation's investment principles and overall investment strategy, interpretation of fiduciary (or equivalent) duties, and how they consider ESG factors and real economy impact.

At PriorNilsson we believe in true active management. We build our asset management on pure fundamental analysis. We stick to basic factors for valuing a company and its equities. Through our active management we believe that we can create a better return than the market over time. Our portfolio managers have no secret models. Their ideas are largely based on many years of experience. If they sit opposite each other and talk about equities throughout the day a lot of investment ideas are born in the daily conversations. ESG factors are an integrated part of these conversations and the investment decision-making process.

True active management means that we can fully choose the stocks we believe in, without taking a position on an index. This also means that sometimes we may opt out a company completely from the funds no matter how heavy the weight is in index.

Our investment principles oblige us to exclude investment in certain sectors. We also screen our holdings by external service-providers to inform us on any breaches of our investment norms in our portfolio companies. This enables us to stick to our principles.

Provide a brief description of the key elements, any variations or exceptions to your investment policy that covers your responsible investment approach. [Optional]

Our work with responsible investments is based on international conventions signed by the Swedish government regarding topics such as human rights, environmental issues, corruption and labor rights. PriorNilsson invests primarily in Swedish firms, but also to some extent in other markets across the globe. Our investments are aligned with the principles and policies settled by PriorNilsson's Board of Directors.

We are investing in accordance with several principles, conventions and treaties. Thus, we are committed to refrain from investing in firms breaching these agreements. In addition, PriorNilsson is a signatory of the UN Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI) as well as the Sveriges Forum för Hållbara Investeringar (Swesif).

These commitments by PriorNilsson on the policy level with regards to responsible investments affect the operational management of funds directly through three primary methods: exclusion, screening & review and ESG integration.

Exclusion

We are restricting our funds' investment universes (i.e. the companies and asset classes we can invest in) by excluding such companies that are operating in sectors where there is a general prohibition or in conflict with our commitments on the policy level (see "Responsible investments" above). The general prohibition excludes companies involved in controversial weapons such as cluster mines, landmines, nuclear weapons, biological weapons, chemical weapons as well as weapons of white phosphorus or depleted uranium. Apart from this, there are no absolute prohibitions towards any specific type of investment. Instead, ESG factors are well-integrated into the fundamental analysis prior to every investment decision.

External resources such as reports and ESG research data are being used by PriorNilsson to consider exclusion. As an example, the AP7 fund communicates a "blacklist" bi-annually that serves as a basis for exclusion from our investment universe. On top of this, our external ESG research analysis providers supply us with ad hoc recommendations on companies that could be excluded.

On a post-investment basis the news flow regarding portfolio holdings is naturally covered for news that could lead to exclusion based on our commitments.

Screening & Review

As a means to follow-up current holdings in order to (in severe cases) exclude/divest companies or (in less severe cases) discover opportunities to influence companies in a direction more in line with our overall take on responsible investments, we are conducting regular screenings and reviews. Our external partner for ESG services, Sustainalytics, is performing rigorous screenings of our portfolios twice a year to control and identify potential risks. These risks often concern companies that might deviate from PriorNilsson's ESG commitment.

Apart from this, the Head of Responsibility as well as the portfolio managers are performing in-house screenings and reviews of ESG issues frequently.

Active Ownership

We invest in companies where we see long-term potential for risk-adjusted excess returns for our clients. Under certain circumstances, we might come to the conclusion that the best means to achieve this goal is through active engagement with our portfolio companies in order to better their performance or risk management. The ownership actions available to us under these circumstances are proxy voting, dialogues and participating in nominations to the board of directors.

ESG integration

A responsible approach to investments constitute an integral part of the investment decision-making process at PriorNilsson. The portfolio managers are treating company, sector and country ESG data in the financial analysis in the same way as and alongside other publically available data on the firm. This ESG data is sourced from the media, external reports, annual reports, CSR reports, equity research reports or any publically accessible information source.

SG 03.2	Describe your policy on managing potential conflicts of interest in the investment process.

Our policy builds on Swedish and EU jurisdiction and guides PriorNilsson to

- Identify conflicts of interest,
- provide routines to deal with any conflicts of interest.

The policy specifies certain areas where conflicts of interest risk to take place and provides detailed information on how to deal with these risks proactively and reactively while protecting clients from negative effects of any such conflict. Whenever a conflict of interest occurs, the policy specifies the line of command and necessary actions for mitigating this risk as much as possible with the client's best in mind.

In order to avoid conflicts of interest there's a self-reporting system in place and the policy states that the information from these reports will be subject to review in the recurring compliance meetings.

Describe

We are regularly measuring the CO2e emission intensity in our portfolios. This is assessing climate-related risk of higher carbon taxes and forced re-structuring.

- No, our organisation does not currently carry out scenario analysis and/or modelling

SG 13.2 Indicate if your organisation considers ESG issues in strategic asset allocation and/or allocation of assets between sectors or geographic markets.

We do the following

- Allocation between asset classes
- Determining fixed income duration
- Allocation of assets between geographic markets
- Sector weightings
- Other, specify
- We do not consider ESG issues in strategic asset allocation

SG 13.3 Additional information. [OPTIONAL]

Because ESG factors are an omnipresent part of the ex ante investment analysis these factors will affect our allocation between asset classes, determining fixed income duration and sector weights. Our allocation of assets between geographic markets is very limited because of our Nordic focus and investment mandate. Therefore, ESG factors do not have a very strong influence on those investment decisions although they are always present.

LEI 01.2

Describe your organisation's approach to ESG incorporation and the reasons for choosing the particular strategy/strategies.

A responsible approach to investments constitute an integral part of the investment decision-making process at PriorNilsson. The portfolio managers are treating company, sector and country ESG data in the financial analysis in the same way as and alongside other publically available data on the firm. This ESG data is sourced from the media, external reports, annual reports, CSR reports, equity research reports or any publically accessible source of information.

Practically, ESG factors are integrated into the investment decision-making process by e.g., evaluating the risks and opportunities of the investment based on trends. This could be listed equities' business risks associated with the shift from fossil fuels. Such trends might lead to new legislation that affects a company's future earnings, need for new investments and re-structuring costs.

In essence, ESG factors might affect income statements and balance sheets as well as cashflows in the listed equity firm. This sort of fundamental value analysis is a natural part of all our analyses of listed equity and we choose this approach because we believe that ESG factors have an impact on a firm's intrinsic value. If, for example, we think that the risk of higher taxes or sanctions/prohibitions of a certain business, then the cashflows from this firm should be discounted with a higher discount rate to reflect this increase in risk, thus lowering the intrinsic value of the business.

If assets are managed using a combination of ESG incorporation strategies, briefly describe how these combinations are used. [Optional]

The fundamental analysis approach to ESG in our incorporation strategy is combined with norm-based screenings. This is a combination in order to reflect shareholder preferences while also striving for the best possible returns for our investors. To achieve the best possible risk-adjusted return while excluding companies from our universe that do not comply with the international norms set out in our investment policy is our combined strategy.

This means that we exclude some companies based on international norms/ESG factors, while in others we only take them into consideration when we perform our investment analysis.

Type of screening

- Negative/exclusionary screening

Screened by

- Product
- Activity
- Sector
- Country/geographic region
- Environmental and social practices and performance
- Corporate governance

Description

We are restricting our funds' investment universes (i.e. the companies and asset classes we can invest in) by excluding such companies that are operating in sectors where there is a general prohibition or in conflict with our ESG commitments on the policy level. The general prohibition excludes companies involved in controversial weapons such as cluster mines, landmines, nuclear weapons, biological weapons, chemical weapons as well as weapons of white phosphorus or depleted uranium. Apart from this, there are no absolute prohibitions towards any specific type of investment. Instead, ESG factors are well-integrated into the fundamental analysis prior to every investment decision.

External resources such as reports and ESG research data are being used by PriorNilsson to consider exclusion. As an example, the AP7 fund communicates a "blacklist" bi-annually that serves as a basis for exclusion from our investment universe. On top of this, our external ESG research analysis providers supply us with ad hoc recommendations on companies that could be excluded.

On a post-investment basis the news flow regarding portfolio holdings is naturally covered for news that could lead to exclusion based on our commitments.

Description
Our ESG research supplier Sustainalytics (formerly GES) is performing bi-annually norm-based screenings of our portfolio companies. We also perform our own norm-based screenings where we look at the AP7 "Black list" of companies that breach the Ten UN Global Compact Principles and the Paris Agreement of 2015. This screening is performed bi-annually. On top of these assessments and screenings we are also performing ad-hoc screenings whenever someone on PriorNilsson considers this necessary.

LEI 04.2	Describe how you notify clients and/or beneficiaries when changes are made to your screening criteria.
This will result in a change in our external communication via our website and in presentation material to clients. FI 01.2 Describe your reasons for choosing a particular ESG incorporation strategy and how combinations of strategies are used.

Our ESG research supplier is performing bi-annually norm-based screenings of our portfolio companies. Our criteria for exclusion (based on international principles and frameworks) and black lists are also narrowing our investment universe ex-ante. Our fundamental analysis of investment opportunities then integrates and weigh in ESG factors into the normal investment decision-making process.

In the governance aspect of the ESG criteria we're looking at the firm from a complete stakeholder perspective. This means that we're taking both the interest of the equity holders but also the firm's creditors. When firms are taking on excessive leverage they might be acting in the interest of equity shareholders but not of their creditors and employees that might not be compensated for the risk of financial distress. This point is of course crucial in the financial analysis prior to making fixed income investments.

These screenings and integration on ESG factors lead us to make better risk-adjusted investment decisions both by mitigating the risk in our investment universe and in our holdings.

FI 03	Mandatory	Public	Additional Assessed	PRI 1

FI 03.1 Indicate how you ensure that your ESG research process is robust:

- Comprehensive ESG research is undertaken internally to determine companies' activities; and products and/or services
- Issuers are given the opportunity by you or your research provider to review ESG research on them and correct inaccuracies
- Issuer information and/or ESG ratings are updated regularly to ensure ESG research is accurate
- Internal audits and regular reviews of ESG research are undertaken in a systematic way.
- A materiality/sustainability framework is created and regularly updated that includes all the key ESG risks and opportunities for each sector/country.
- Other, specify
- None of the above

FI 03.2 Describe how your ESG information or analysis is shared among your investment team.

- ESG information is held within a centralised database and is accessible to all investment staff
- ESG information is displayed on front office research platforms
- ESG information is a standard item on all individual issuer summaries, research notes, 'tear sheets', or similar documents
- Investment staff are required to discuss ESG information on issuers as a standard item during investment committee meetings
- Records capture how ESG information and research was incorporated into investment decisions
- Other, specify
Our investment team is fairly small and works intimately with each other. All ESG information and/or analysis is shared openly in the operating environment.
- None of the above

FI 03.3 Additional information. [Optional]

Occasionally, we are provided with data on ESG factors from our research providers. This is, however, not a standard item in all equity research. Mostly because our universes cover companies where ESG factors are not deemed to be material.

FI 04.2 Describe your approach to screening for internally managed active fixed income

Our ESG research supplier is performing bi-annual norm-based screenings of our portfolio companies. Our criteria for exclusion (based on international principles and frameworks) and black lists are also narrowing our investment universe ex-ante.

This is the same approach as for every other asset class in our investment management, including our fixed income investments.

FI 04.3	Additional information. [Optional]

We do not conduct any own ESG factor screenings, but we follow recommendations from others. E.g. the bi-annual AP7 screening, based on ESG factors such as negative environmental impact, breaches of international standards for human rights, labor rights, civil rights and corruption. These AP7 screenings result in a black list which is then used as a criteria of exclusion.

Our external ESG research provider performs norms-based screenings of our holdings (fixed income as well as listed equities). The norms used in this screening are the principles and commitments we're adhering to via our SWESIF's sustainability declaration for funds (Hållbarhetsprofilen).

Corporate (financial)

ESG risk and opportunities are a natural element in PriorNilsson's investment decision-making process. This process integrates business risk and opportunities as well as mega trends towards sustainability in our world and society at large.

A firm's exposure to ESG factors can provide both a risk and an opportunity that is assessed the same way as other business-related information. The firm's exposure will affect its valuation and the portfolio manager's belief on its future earnings potential.

These factors are reviewed occasionally, but at least annually, as the investment environment is changing. Because the ESG factors are naturally integrated into the portfolio manager's daily tracking of the holdings and investment universe, the factors are occasionally being reviewed alongside other factors in the space.
